

TWO WEEKS MORE OF A. F. WHEELER'S FEBRUARY AND MARCH SALE

MILLERSBURG

Mr. J. H. Barnes is confined to his home with neuritis.

Quite a number of dogs were poisoned here during the past few days.

Col. C. M. Best returned Saturday after a ten-days sojourn at Dawson Springs.

Elder Alex. Sanders, of Paris, was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. W. G. Dailey, Sunday.

Regular meeting of Amity Lodge, No. 40, F. and A. M., at seven-thirty p. m., this evening.

Leut. Richard Huffman has returned to his duties at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., after a few days with his friends at home.

Mr. Ollie Hurst, of Lexington, and mother-in-law, Mrs. Gum, of Detroit, Mich., are guests of his brother and sister, Mr. O. E. Hurst and wife.

Mrs. Bayles DeBell, of Ewing, arrived Saturday from Lexington, after several weeks visit there, to her daughter, Mrs. George Jeffreys, and is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Caldwell.

Miss Mary Sweeney, of Lexington, will give a "war bread" demonstration in the Domestic Science room of the Millersburg College, Thursday afternoon, at two o'clock. The ladies are cordially invited to be present and hear Miss Sweeney and witness the demonstration.

The many friends and patients of Dr. W. G. Dailey will be glad to learn that he has declined to accept the flattering offer made him recently by the board of the Massillon Hospital for the Insane, at Massillon, O. Some time ago the Superintendent of the institution corresponded with Dr. Dailey relative to this position. Dr. Dailey took the matter up, considered it seriously, and finally declined to accept. This Hospital is a State institution with more than 1,800 inmates.

Mrs. J. F. Lang has returned to her home in Cincinnati, after a week's visit to Mrs. Dennis McMahon.

Mrs. Harry Ham and Miss Ethel Ward, of Carlisle, were guests Saturday and Sunday of Mrs. James Howard and daughters.

RED CROSS NOTICE.—This is old clothes week for the Red Cross, and a call has come for books for the soldiers in the camps. The two can- teens will be combined. The second-hand clothing will be shipped to the Belgian refugees, and, of course, must be strong and durable. The articles will be collected on Friday afternoon from the town people, and from those outside of town, later. Leave books at the Exchange Bank, and old clothes at the residence of Mrs. Alex. Miller.

Mr. Joe Williams and family moved Monday from their home recently sold to Mr. Nicholas Rankin, to Paris. Mr. Williams has served as City Marshal of Millersburg for the past fifteen years, and at the last meeting of the City Council tendered his resignation to take effect March 15. Mr. Williams has made one of the best officials Millersburg has ever had; has turned more money into the city treasury; has supervised and taken care of the building of streets, and saw that the work was well done; has personally looked after the fire engines and always had them in good condition, and visited the electric light plant every day to see that everything was in working order and at times when the engineer was absent or sick would run the plant himself. Many of these duties did not come within the province of his office, but he did them because he had the interest of the town at heart, and while residing with us he was in every sense one of us. Mr. Williams

DEATHS.

YOUNG.

The funeral of Mr. Raymond Young, aged about thirty-five, who died last week at his home on the Jacktown pike, was held at the residence, with services conducted by Rev. Frank M. Tindler, pastor of the North Middletown Christian church. The interment followed in the Carlisle cemetery.

Mr. Young had been a sufferer for many years with tuberculosis. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Carrie Willis, of near Little Rock, one son, two sisters and one brother.

HOUGH.

Lucy Allen Hough, aged eight, died Sunday night at eight o'clock, after a short illness of pneumonia. The little girl was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Hough, of Walker avenue, and was their only child.

The funeral will take place at ten o'clock this (Tuesday) morning with services conducted at the grave in the Paris Cemetery by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church.

The parents have the sympathy of the community in the death of their daughter, who attracted all by her bright and winning ways.

HEDGES.

Mrs. Elizabeth Phelps Hedges, aged thirty, died in the Good Samaritan Hospital, in Lexington, after a four-months' illness. She was the wife of Mr. J. Oscar Hedges, who formerly resided near North Middletown. Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter four months old, one brother and five sisters.

The funeral was held Saturday morning at eleven o'clock at the home of her uncle, Mr. Zack Phelps, in Lexington, conducted by Rev. I. J. Spencer, of the Lexington Christian church. The body was taken to North Middletown for interment. Services were conducted at the grave in the North Middletown Cemetery at two o'clock by Rev. F. M. Tindler, pastor of the North Middletown Christian church.

MATRIMONIAL.

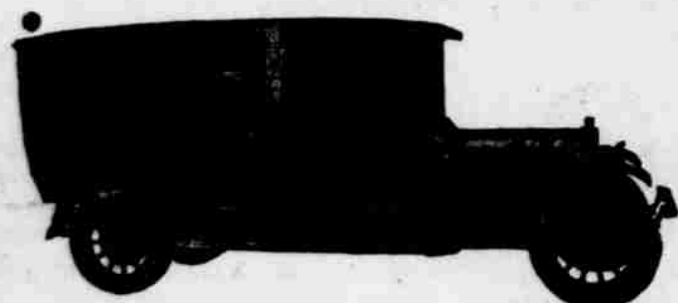

BENCKART-SANTEN.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dehore, of Lexington, have made public announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Elizabeth Benckart, to Mr. Bernard J. Santen, of Paris. The marriage will be solemnized early in April.

Miss Benckart is a very charming and attractive young woman, who has a host of warm friends here. Mr. Santen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Santen, of Scott avenue. He is a prominent factor in the commercial life of Paris, being one of the most highly-esteemed attaches of the First National Bank. Personally he is one of the best-liked young men in Paris.

The groom-to-be sometime ago purchased the handsome home of Capt. and Mrs. James M. Taylor, on High street, and furnished it for the reception of his bonnie bride.

This afternoon Mrs. Wm. A. Kranz, of Covington, and Miss Catherine Caden, will entertain with an afternoon party, a "Miscellaneous Shower," in honor of the bride-elect, Miss Benckart, at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Caden, on London avenue, in Lexington.
